Amos condemns the complacency of the rich who seek only their own comfort. In his parable of the rich man and Lazarus, Jesus echoes Amos, exhorting those who have to share with those who have not. This past weekend at Good Shepherd Church in Camp Hill, Bishop Gainer officially received Joe Gusherowski from our parish as a candidate for Holy Orders as a deacon of the Church. Joe has spent the last year in discerning with the diocese his call to the diaconate. With the bishop accepting him as a candidate, Joe now begins four more years of intensive training in moral and systematic theology, Church history, liturgy, homiletics, canon law, etc. It is an amazing responsibility along with his duties as a husband and father along with his own daily work. Deacons play a very important role in the life of the Church and our prayers are with Joe as he prepares for this new and wonderful part of his life. "May God, who has begun this good work in you, bring it to completion." Congratulations, Joe!

Why should I vote/ Does the Church tell me who to vote for?

In the Catholic Tradition, responsible citizenship is considered a virtue, and participation in political life – especially voting – is considered a moral obligation. In their document Forming Consciences for Faithful Citizenship, the U.S. Bishops note,

“The Church’s obligation to participate in shaping the moral character of society is a requirement of our faith.” Being a faithful citizen requires a well-formed conscience, aided by reading Scripture, reflecting on Church teaching, examining the issues and praying.

The Catholic Church neither endorses nor opposes specific candidates for public office or political parties, nor does it tell Catholics for whom to vote. Rather, each Catholic must prayerfully reflect on the candidates’ positions in light of teachings of Christ and His Church, and participate in the privileged opportunity to promote the common good as they cast their vote. Use that opportunity on November 8. For more information, visit www.Hbgdiocese.org/vote.

The Harrisburg Diocesan Guild of the Catholic Medical Association extends an invitation to all Catholic Healthcare Professionals and their families to attend their Annual White Mass:

YOUTH AND EDUCATION NEWS

Today is Catechetical Sunday! Our thanks go out to all those who teach in our Catholic schools and religious education programs. We also recognize our own call to share the faith. This year’s theme from the United States Bishops is “Prayer – The Faith Prayed.”

Religious Education for Students with Special Needs

SJA’s REP program supports all students, including those with special needs. Our program includes a special needs class that utilizes a small group instruction format on Sunday mornings at 10:15. Another option for students would include a helper to provide 1:1 assistance in the regular REP class based on the needs of the child. A third option would be to help identify a volunteer to provide 1:1 instruction to your child outside of a classroom.

Parents and guardians, for more information, please contact: Marcie Warner or Earl Tropp, 533-7168 ext. 122 or email rep@stjoanhershey.org

Volunteers: If you have a background in special education and willingness to learn and volunteer for this important ministry, we would welcome your support. Please contact Marcie or Earl at their phone number or email listed above. Thank you!

This Week - Life Teen Social-After a day at the Special Olympics, let’s unwind with some Olympics of our own! Bring your friends for a night of fun and game!

LIFE TEEN Next Week- “Exorcist-Jesus as Healer”-No worries, we are not having a real exorcism next week at Life Teen! Teens will be encouraged to evaluate their faith and the relationship they have with Jesus. We will learn to make powerful prayer petitions and not just empty platitudes.

EDGE - is for grades 6-8th and meets on Monday nights in Meeting Room C from 7-8:15. The next EDGE nights will be on September 19; October 3 and 24.
